Fund managers comments

During the month of december the fund increased with 1,44%. This compared with the MSCI World up 1,70%, a Eurostoxx 600 up 2,48% and an IBOXX index up 0,32%. The current net exposure in equities increased to 56,9% and the currency exposure was 52,3% in Euro and 28,4% in USD.

2020 was a special year that investors will not easily forget. The covid19 pandemic and the lockdown measures initially caused financial markets to implode. But thanks to the drastic intervention of central banks and governments, as well as the positive test results of several anti-covid vaccines, the bad economic consequences were quickly ignored by stock markets. Our hope for 2021 is therefore a smooth roll-out of vaccination programmes so that we can definitively leave the pandemic behind us and the world economy can once again shift into a higher gear. This also makes the scenario of a global economic recovery in 2021, with an expected growth of 5.2% more likely (compared to a decline of 3.8% in 2020). There are also some reassuring political and monetary factors that will benefit the global economy from 2021 onwards. On the political front, the arrival of Joe Biden as the new US President will put international relations high on the agenda once again. The signing of both the Brexit trade agreement and the new large-scale Asian free trade agreement will also benefit the global economy. On the monetary front, the numerous support measures and recovery plans in the US, Japan and Europe will remain in place, allowing confidence in the economies to recover further. These measures have led to ever lower interest rates, creating a very favourable environment for equities. During the fourth quarter, the Fund's net equity position gradually increased to 56.9%. In view of a further escalation of government debt and the prospect of continued low interest rates due to the permanent expansionary monetary policy of central banks, we continue to give physical gold a key position with a weight of 12.5% in the fund.
